

GET TO KNOW DR. SEYER

Though Dr. Seyer grew up wanting to be a veterinarian like his father was, a college job at the student health services clinic changed his focus to medicine. He joins AgeRight after nearly two decades in family medicine, and provides direct care to skilled nursing and rehab patients in senior care facilities. He feels the staff of nurse practitioners and physician assistants are AgeRight's greatest asset, and enjoys being part of such a dynamic team.

“It's a good feeling to be part of such a large team of professionals caring for our patients.”

DR. SEYER AT-A-GLANCE:

- Nearly 20 years in physician practice
- Previously worked as medical director at Marquis Hope Village
- Earned Doctor of Osteopathy degree from A.T. Still University, and completed a family practice residency at Southern Illinois University
- Enjoys exercising, working in the yard, watching his childrens' sporting activities and riding his Harley
- Was California state grass volleyball champion in 1992
- Community service involvement with the Knights of Columbus, and in junior hockey coaching with the Portland Winterhawks

